

Ms Karen Petersen Mehra

United Nations NGO Representative for the World YWCA

Karen Petersen Mehra studied Government at Harvard, Anthropology at Columbia, and for the past 15 years has been a United Nations NGO representative for the World YWCA following work on women's issues and environmental issues. She currently lives in Greenwich, Connecticut where she spends times as an artist and a volunteer for environmental, educational, and political causes.