

JEFFREY A. SONNENFELD

Senior Associate Dean for Executive Programs &
Lester Crown Professor in the Practice of Management

Jeffrey Sonnenfeld is Senior Associate Dean for Executive Programs at Yale University's School of Management and The Lester Crown Professor of Management Practice as well as the Founder, President of THE YALE CHIEF EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE– the world's first "CEO College." Under his leadership, Yale executive programs have grown from 100 executives a year to 4,000 executives a year and each year have drawn together several hundred of the world's most prominent CEOs. Prior to this, Sonnenfeld spent ten years as a professor at the Harvard Business School. Recently, Sonnenfeld was named by Business Week as one of the world's "ten most influential business school professors" and one of the "100 most influential figures in governance" by Directorship.

A frequent speaker before executive audiences, his consulting work and research activities reflect a continued interest in chief executive leadership, succession and board governance along with corporate culture and strategic change. He has appeared often on all the major US TV networks. In addition to his post as a regular commentator for CNBC, he is a columnist for Business Week, a regular commentator on PBS's "Nightly Business Report" a frequently cited management expert in the global media, his columns also regularly appear in The Wall Street Journal, Forbes, and the New York Times.